THE HOME

A home away from home

Trullo Ibisco is also the owners' residence when they are in Italy, giving it the warmth and character of a genuine home rather than simply a holiday rental.

Thoughtfully furnished for real living, it offers an intimate and relaxed setting for up to six guests, with beautiful indoor spaces and generous outdoor living.

THE BEDROOMS

Three restful bedrooms

Two bedrooms are in the main house and the third is set within the traditional trullo. Each bedroom has its own bathroom.

Designed for relaxed living

Comfortable living spaces and a well-equipped kitchen make Ibisco easy to settle into - whether you are staying in for a quiet morning or gathering before dinner.

THE BATHROOMS

Beautifully finished private bathrooms

Each bedroom has its own bathroom, finished in calm natural tones with thoughtful details throughout.

OUTDOOR LIVING

Made for long lunches and evenings outside

The covered dining area and outdoor kitchen are at the heart of summer living, with a barbecue and pizza oven for relaxed meals at home.

THE POOL & GARDENS

Slow afternoons under the Puglian sun

The private pool, outdoor shower, Mediterranean planting and sun-soaked terraces create an easy rhythm between swimming, reading and outdoor meals.

PERFECTLY PLACED

The perfect base for exploring Puglia

From whitewashed hill towns and local markets to two very different coastlines, Ibisco makes an easy base for discovering the region while returning each day to the peace of the countryside.

LOCAL LIFE

Markets, produce and Puglian flavour

Weekly markets are part of everyday life across the Valle d'Itria, with stalls piled with seasonal fruit and vegetables, cheeses, olives and other local produce.

It is one of the pleasures of staying at Ibisco: shop locally in the morning, then bring everything home for lunch by the pool or dinner from the outdoor kitchen.
